

FUNNY RESULT IN VILLAGE QUIZ...

This year's Annual Village Hall Quiz was won by the Hystericals Team in a very close contest of fourteen teams.

The competition, which has been run annually as a fund-raiser for Village Hall funds since 1981, was organised by last year's winning team, the Handbell Ringers group. Traditionally the organisers of the event feature elements of their own activities in their questions. This year the Handbell group performed a medley of traditional nursery rhymes for contestants to guess the titles of, which provoked a lot of memory-jogging humming from the floor.

The Bosworth Bugle production team fielded two teams with the Bugle One Team chasing for second place, one point behind the winners and the Bugle Two Team snapping at the heels of the Ladies that Lunch Team, to manage a creditable fourth place.

Former villagers Alan and Liz Dandy, who ran the first quiz, travelled from the wilds of Snarestone to present the Village Hall Quiz trophy to the winning team and thanked the organisers for another memorable event.

MARINA PLANS WITHDRAWN

Controversial plans to create a 240-berth canal boat marina, boat yard and associated commercial units near North Kilworth have been withdrawn by the promoters following a number of concerns raised by Harborough planners.

Council and Highways officers were concerned that there was inadequate provision for the safe access of the additional traffic likely to be generated by the scheme onto the main highway system and had reservations about the lack of pedestrian and cycle traffic access within the site. They also objected to some aspects of the proposed public house and felt that it presented over-development and was out of character with the Grand Union Canal Linear Conservation Area, which is adjacent to the site.

FENCE LINE

Elsewhere in this issue there is an article by Matthew Bown, the school headteacher, explaining the need to upgrade the school's security and the new metal fencing around the playing field.

Whilst the sudden appearance of the stark, utilitarian fencing, without apparent warning or consultation, caused consternation in some quarters, it has to be admitted that the old chestnut paling offered little by way of security for the children or the school premises.

Further proposals for improvements put forward by Mr. Bown for the school field and the 'wilderness' nature corner should soon enhance the area both from the childrens' educational point of view and that of passers by.

VIRTUAL TOUR

Google's Street View mapping of Husbands Bosworth is now on-line. To take a tour of our village, click on Maps from the Google Home Page, type in your post code and drag the 'peg-man' that sits on the scale-bar to your street.

Google claim that nothing is shown that couldn't be seen by a passing motorist but will happily blot out your property if you ask them to. Supporters suggest that it may increase tourism and could be used by folk thinking of moving to the area or sussing out a local feature. Let us know what you think - a boon for the inquisitive traveller or casual visitor ... or a handy tool for the criminal?

VILLAGE VOICES

Local radio station, Harborough fm, is planning a series of open meetings at which villagers will be given the opportunity to express their opinions on a wide range of issues relating to village life. The meetings will be recorded at the time and edited to be broadcast, one a week, over a ten-week period later in the year.

The meetings will generally be expected to polarise around specific local issues. However, topics suggested to start the ball rolling would be likely to include rural businesses, the natural environment, local services and utilities, social opportunities and local history. Significant features special to Bosworth, such as the canal, the quarry, allotments, the village school and agriculture could be drawn into the discussions.

If you would like the opportunity to air your views, promote your group or simply to declare your interest in your community, then come along to the meeting. The date of the meeting is yet to be fixed. Watch this space!

POSTBAG

From Sally Lang, Butt Lane

The bells have bothered me too, Mr. Austin. I remember writing a letter to the Bosworth Bugle years ago, to express my irritation with that loud, cacophonous CLANG CLANG CLANG, that just seems to go on and on. Since then I've got a bit deafer and had double glazing installed. In any case, it could be worse. The world's not short of strange belief systems and folks to believe in them. If it wasn't this one it would be another. In a few years or a few hundred, it probably will be another. The most likely contender is one out of the same 'stable' (so to speak), where some bloke starts wailing and yodelling at the crack of dawn, to call the faithful to prayer (which, frankly, I'd find even more annoying than bells before midnight). The one that currently keeps your children awake, replaced another, earlier religion – and who knows, that earlier religion: the religion of our ancient ancestors, might have been even noisier and more disturbing. I'd like to slap a noise abatement order on the lot of 'em personally, but we live in a 'democracy' where it sometimes appears that the loudest over-rule the most rational and reasonable - so their need to clang has precedence over your children's need to sleep. Besides, it's traditional, so it must be a good thing... mustn't it?

From Pat Heighon, Hillcrest Lane

In reply to Mr. Austin regarding the church bells - I always, in life try to see the other side of every story, but in this case the first thought that came into my head was that if this is the only thing to make Mr. Austin angry he should get his priorities right. I'm sure he'd rather his children were woken by bells rather than bombs and gunfire like those in Afghanistan. Why buy a house near a church if you don't like bells, which have been there for hundreds of years?

From Indi Fountain, Mowsley Road

A big thank you to the small group of villagers that supported my dream to help a school in India. 25,000 rupees (£360) were delivered on February 15th, which the Head plans to use to pay for benches to be made so that not all the children have to sit on the floor for their lessons.

From Bill Fletcher, School Lane

Please accept a very, very big thank you for your generous donations we received after my December appeal for items for the Leicester Holme Project. Through your kindness we received around £300 worth of plates, mugs, etc. and £200 in monetary donations.

BOSWORTH IN FOCUS

A ROUND-UP OF LOCAL NEWS

FESTIVAL AID

Are you a qualified First Aider? We are looking for volunteer first-aiders to help at this year's Bosworth Festival on Saturday, June 26th. Ideally we would like several volunteers to cover the day, with each volunteer 'on duty' for a maximum of two hours. All equipment would be provided. If you would like to volunteer, or would just like more information please contact Bill Fletcher on 0116 2611527 (Work) or 880910.

BLITZ ON DOG FOULING

Dog walkers who don't clear-up after their pets are being targeted at known grot-spots in the area. Harborough District Council's environmental health officers are cracking down on offenders, using plainclothes patrols to catch anyone allowing their dogs to foul in public areas and issuing £50 on-the-spot fines to culprits.

Dog faeces can carry harmful infection, such as toxocariasis, a serious infection that can cause eye disorders and other ailments, especially in young children.

Environmental Health Officers are asking the public to call them on 828282 or e-mail: enforcement@harborough.gov.uk if they have information about irresponsible dog walkers or areas where the problem is particularly prevalent.

LOCAL NEWS IN BRIEF

■ Over 10,000 visitors have visited the newly refurbished Harborough Museum since it re-opened in September. The centre-piece of the museum is the Hallaton Hoard display of Iron Age and Roman coins and artefacts.

■ William Miles has applied to HDC planners for permission to retain the anemometer test mast at Sparrow Lodge, Pincet Lane, North Kilworth, for an additional 13 months.

FLAT BATTERY

A recycling initiative led by the domestic battery industry came into force on February 1st. Under the scheme shops selling domestic batteries would provide bins for customers to recycle their dead batteries. Has anyone found the recycling bins anywhere locally? Let us know if you have and we'll pass on the information.

Editor's note: Heather did some sleuthing and found a website; batteryback.org which says that Argos, Homebase, Jeacock's and Frank Gilbert's in Harborough, and Ford's Discount in Lutterworth, should have recycling bins.

INFORMATION GAP

Campaigners opposed to the Begley's Yard 11-home development off Church Street have taken their grievances to the Information Commissioner's Office. They claim that information contained in documents withheld from the public domain during the planning process may have had a bearing on the public comment, which may have swayed the planners' decision to grant permission.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW

The Annual Horticultural and Craft Show will take place on Sunday, August 29th.

We want to continue the successful trend established in 2009 when entries were 30% higher than the previous year. New categories such as photography contributed to this. We hope that the craft element will continue to grow, and we are now planning how to accommodate it. We also hope that a better summer will see the horticultural side rebound to its previous high level, especially with more people growing their own vegetables.

Whatever happens we expect to continue to find ways to make money for village 'Good Causes', which have benefited by over £1200 in the last two years.

Schedules will be distributed with the Bugle in July but if you have any questions, suggestions or offers of help, please call Kath Harrison 880206 or Eleanor Murphy 880476.

BRAVE SOLES

On Sunday, June 27th a couple of intrepid fund-raisers from Cherry Tree Close are joining others from around Leicester to walk 35 miles from the Holiday Inn, Leicester to the Holiday Inn, Leamington. The walk is to raise money for Guide Dogs for the Blind. The walkers, Heather Lydall and Gayle Rowley, are looking for sponsors and would also welcome any committed, keen walker who would like to join them either in training or on the actual day.

If you are interested or would like to offer to sponsor the walkers please call Heather on 880766 for further details.

ALLOTMENT NEWS

At the recent meeting of the Parish Council it was noted that a number of allotments on the village's Welford Road site appeared to be untended. Tenants are to be reminded that they must leave their plots clean and tidy and in good condition if they intend relinquishing them at the next renewal. It was noted that there were seven names on the waiting list at present. Two new plots would be gained once the repairs to the cemetery wall had been carried out. For more information please contact the Parish Clerk on 01858 880910.

WASTE NOT...

Kitchen caddies and outside storage bins for waste food will be wheeled out to homes in the district in the next few weeks as part of Harborough District Council's commitment to recycling. Harborough is already one of the top ten local authorities in the whole country with a recycling rate of over 54% but hopes for even greater things! Any food waste such as vegetable peelings, egg shells, bones and leftover food can be stored in the sealable containers for collection.

Collection of recyclable food waste will dovetail with the existing weekly recyclable material collections and will commence in Husbands Bosworth on Friday, May 7th.

SCHOOL REPORT

HUSBANDS BOSWORTH C. of E. PRIMARY SCHOOL

After a very short term we have finally arrived at our Easter holidays. Although the term has been brief we, as always, have been very busy. The children have been actively raising money for some very worthwhile causes including Sport Relief in which the children dressed as their favourite sports star and also did a sponsored skip. A group of Year 6 pupils also planned a 'wear your pyjamas day' for the Haiti earthquake appeal. We were very proud of them as they raised over £115. Early in March our school also supported 'Fairtrade Fortnight', raising awareness of poverty in the Third World.

We have also continued to develop and make improvements to our school. This term we extended the outside learning area for our youngest children in Class 1. This area now has an enclosed play and grass area for use in their lessons.

We have also constructed a new perimeter fence around our school field. This has been necessary for two reasons. Firstly, we want the children to use the field more often in lessons and at playtime. Unfortunately the original fencing did not provide the security necessary to do this. Secondly, we want to develop our field area to encompass environmental learning. We intend to develop the school pond and begin planting hedges, flowers, fruit and vegetables. It was therefore necessary to make sure this area was secure in order to do this. We want to provide a safe and aesthetically pleasing learning environment for our children and we will do this with particular consideration for the village community.

I hope you have a happy and healthy Easter. God bless. Matthew Bown, Headteacher

FOBS REPORT

Funds raised by FOBS helps to provide extras not normally accounted for in school funds. For example, money by the group continues to part-fund swimming lessons for the children also paid for coach hire for school trips.

Last year the major expenditure was on new school-books for Key Stage 1 and Key Stage 2 children. This year FOBS are supporting Mr. Bown's plans to install new shelving and purchase new books for the school library.

STOMACH ACID - LOW OR HIGH?

If you suffer from acid reflux back into the throat you could be suffering from either low or high hydrochloric/stomach acid (HCL). Both can have similar symptoms including indigestion, heartburn, etc. HCL production declines with age, which makes it more difficult to digest food, particularly protein. HCL is needed to kill off bugs and bacteria and ensures minerals such as calcium, magnesium, iron, zinc, selenium and boron absorb properly.

Regular use of indigestion aids can reduce HCL, further preventing vitamin/mineral absorption, affecting body functions and leading to degenerative diseases. On the other hand many people produce too much acid and over a period of time the reflux action can cause problems with the oesophagus and even dental erosion. A change of diet can help this condition but, if in doubt get checked by your GP.

Nicole Franklin Reiki Practitioner

An armed and hooded robber bursts into a bank and loads a sack with cash. On his way out with the loot, a brave customer grabs the hood and pulls it back, revealing the robber's face. The robber shoots him dead. He then looks around to see if anyone else has seen him. Everyone's very scared and looking down at the floor.

"Did anyone else see my face?" calls the robber. There are a few moments silence, then one elderly gent tentatively raises his hand and says, "I think my wife might have caught a glimpse...."

LONG SERVICE

Peter Jones is retiring after 18 years of stalwart service as Churchwarden at All Saints Parish Church.

The PCC would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank Peter for all the hard work he has done over the years - his will be a difficult act to follow!

A new Churchwarden will, hopefully, be elected at the AGM on March 30th.
