

GRAPHIC REMINDER

As we've noted on a number of occasions before in the Bugle, Bosworth suffers very little by way of anti-social behaviour and vandalism - or crime in general for that matter. It's therefore that much more galling when something significant does crop up.

Illiterate scrawl appeared on the skatepark equipment soon after its installation, some no doubt as part of the territorial marking of those who use the facility. The reason for the wanton vandalism that the equipment has endured over the years is less easy to define. The park is well-used and not only by Bosworth youngsters. Outsiders are likely to be responsible for some of the graffiti - Killworth Boys Rule might suggest a visiting and illiterate hand! Recent marker-pen etchings that have decorated the High Street bus shelters probably don't unduly offend the rightful users or diminish the use but do betray a lack of social responsibility on the part of the perpetrators.

Graffiti that has recently appeared on the noticeboard and public bench on the Old Green however is on a different level. Jokey tags and stylised graphics might be a rite of passage and mildly acceptable on play equipment or bus shelters but daubing swastikas and offensive scrawl on the memorial seat and noticeboard needs to be recognised as the criminal damage that it is. Again, the finger may point to outsiders but if anyone has an inkling who is responsible for these acts of selfishness just remind them that it is a crime and that the local police are aware.

WELFORD WEIGHT WATCHERS

Members of the Welford Action Group, the local body which has been campaigning for traffic reduction and calming measures through Welford village, are pressing for an Amenity Weight Restriction on the A5199.

Amenity weight limits are usually considered to be a last-resort measure where HGV traffic is demonstrated to be a significant problem. An AWR, usually of 7.5 tonnes, can be implemented to protect property or improve traffic or personal safety only where a suitable alternative route is available that won't simply transfer the problem from one area to another. The alternative route must also be convenient and easily signed so as to be readily acceptable by HGV drivers.

The Welford scheme is presently being considered by Northamptonshire County Council. The Highways Agency has voiced no objections. However, Leicestershire County Council, which has identified the A5199 as a designated HGV route to the A14 within the Local Traffic Plan, has opposed the proposal, as have road users' groups. The Welford Action Group already has a number of successes under its belt with the raising of kerbs and installation of bollards along the High Street during the recent resurfacing scheme and the imposition of a 20mph speed limit through the village.

DANCING QUEEN

Elsewhere in this issue we note the festivities in Bosworth during the Jubilee celebrations for Queen Victoria in 1897. Some of us may recall the similar celebrations for our present Queen's Silver Jubilee in 1977.

For the Queen's Diamond Jubilee in June 2012 the government, no doubt wishing to divert the population's attention from our more mundane fiscal dilemmas, has decreed an extended Bank Holiday period in order that we may freely celebrate the jolly occasion.

So, how will Bosworth mark the event? There are numerous active groups within the village and doubtless plenty of ideas. It's not too soon to start planning, especially if venues and facilities need to be booked. So, get Bosworth's thinking cap on... and let's party!

SLOW LANE

Watch your speed in Welford! The 20mph speed signing throughout Welford village is now active and is enforceable in law.

Northamptonshire police have promised to keep a watchful eye on proceedings and will be monitoring the speed of vehicles travelling through the village, with increased speed checks.

ROAST CHESTNUTS?

Well done to the organisers, the helpers (and contestants!) of the recent Conker Championships, who helped win through against extreme adversity!

The spirit of conquest shone through even if the sun failed to grace proceedings and despite the truly atrocious weather conditions a great time seemed to be had by all.

Teams from as far afield as Sibbertoft, Bruntingthorpe and South Africa battled for the honours in what is surely destined to become a favourite village event.

Oh, for a warm and dry day...

POSTBAG

From Katharine Wright, Turville Memorial Hall Committee.

The village hall committee were recently very sorry to discover that a fire extinguisher had been stolen from the premises. This kind of thoughtless act not only costs the Village Hall money, which could be better spent on ongoing and necessary improvements to the building, but affects a large proportion of the local community who use the hall. We would ask everyone to respect all the different meeting places in the village - we are extremely lucky to have so many at our disposal - and report any acts of vandalism or improper behaviour to the relevant officers.

From Robert Constable-Maxwell, Chairman, Husbands Bosworth & District Branch of the Royal British Legion

Two aircraft crashed near Husbands Bosworth during the last war and it is intended to erect memorial plaques at the sites of both of these. The first incident involved a Miles Master trainer aircraft, which crashed in front of Bosworth Hall whilst carrying out practice bombing runs for the Royal Artillery, who were at the time camping in Bosworth Park. The aircraft struck a tree during a low-level pass and both the Polish pilot and his 14 year old air cadet passenger were killed.

The second crash involved a Wellington bomber, DV697, which suffered engine failure and crashed close to the Welland whilst attempting to land. That aircraft had a crew of five, four of whom perished in the crash. The aircraft had been purchased by the Trinidad Bomber Fund and was named for Sir George Huggins OBE, a prominent West Indies businessman. Two of the crew who died were members of the Royal Australian Air Force, the other two were from the RAF.

A programme is currently being drawn up for the erection of permanent memorials at the crash sites. A dedication service and unveiling ceremony has been arranged for Saturday, December 4th at 11.00am at the crash sites. Representatives of the Australian airforce, the Royal Airforce and the Trinidadian government have been invited to attend. A memorial tree, a eucalyptus donated by the RAAF, will be planted close to the Wellington crash site in memory of the Australian airmen who died. The ceremony will be followed by a finger-buffet reception in the Church Hall at 12.00noon, at which historical notes about Husbands Bosworth aerodrome during World War 2 will be displayed. All are invited to this occasion.

Both events are being arranged by the Husbands Bosworth & District Branch of the Royal British Legion in conjunction with the Parish Council.

■ Three agricultural telescopic loaders have been stolen from around the Towcester/Daventry area in recent weeks

■ The male driver of a vehicle stopped in North Kilworth was cautioned for possession of cannabis

■ A sat-nav device, an Ipod mp3 player and a digital camera left on display were stolen from a car parked overnight in Husbands Bosworth

■ Property stolen from a van parked overnight in Walcote

Horse keepers are warned to be vigilant following reports that horse-tail plaiters are active in the area again.

Anyone finding any suspicious marking on their horse is urged to remove it immediately. There has been a lot of publicity with regards to plaits being put into the manes of horses as a marker before they are stolen and we have received several reports in recent months from around the Northampton area.

■ A male was cautioned for the cultivation of cannabis after a search warrant was executed in High Street, Husbands Bosworth

Warwickshire Police report that a number of schools, churches, and community centres, in their area have been approached by cold callers offering cut-price line painting on roads outside their buildings or in their car parks. They claim to be working on behalf of the council or its contractors, and have spare yellow paint. Police would point out that any work carried out on the public highway can only be done after consultation and permission from the local authority.

BYGONE BOSWORTH

The Historical Society's Periodical Journal

The government has announced plans for a nationwide celebration for the Queen's Diamond Jubilee in 2012, including a Jubilee Weekend on June 2nd to 5th.

Queen Victoria held her Diamond Jubilee on June 20th, 1897. Isobel Pepperill has been delving in the Historical Society's Bygone Bosworth collection and has dug up some information on how Bosworth celebrated at that time.

The Market Harboro' Advertiser June 29th 1897 reported that in Bosworth "the church bells rang out merry peals in honour of the event, while at Bosworth House the children of the village assembled in the gardens and played games. Each was presented with a cake and were to have had a Jubilee mug but these were delivered late and had to be distributed later."

Later in the week the focus of events turned to Bosworth Hall, by kind permission of Miss Turville. "At one o'clock Wigston Town Band paraded the village and residents flocked to the Park where a programme of sports was well carried out." Again the children dispersed, laden with cakes and buns! Later 350 villagers sat down to a meal "...in a large marquee which had been tastefully decorated by the Misses Caldecott."

The article concludes with: "Bosworth, which at one time seemed likely to have no festivities, may congratulate itself on a most successful celebration."

In November of the Jubilee Year the villagers planted an English Oak on The Green opposite the Turville Memorial Hall. Each of the children from the village school added a spadeful of earth to the planting, after which the National Anthem was sung.

PLAYING FIELD COMMITTEE

At the recent meeting of the Playing Field Committee members heard that work to cut back the roadside hedge and improve car parking was in hand. Lafarge Aggregates had agreed to supply gravel to 'top up' the car park surfacing.

Funding has been secured from Hollowell Steam Fair, which it was proposed could be used towards the cost of a CCTV security system to overlook the pavilion and tennis courts. Further information on costs and options was being sought.

The committee voiced concerns regarding the state of the pavilion following the Conker Championships.

GRANT SUCCESS

The Turville Memorial Hall Committee is delighted to have been granted a Biffa Award of £5,000 towards the cost of replacing the windows in the village hall.

The grant has enabled all the remaining windows to be replaced by new double glazed units, which should help to save energy, keep the warmth in and make a real difference to hall users' comfort this winter!

VILLAGE LUNCHEON

The next village luncheon meeting will be on Thursday, November 25th. Diners are asked to meet in the bar at Kilworth Springs Golf Club at 12.30pm. The cost of the two-course meal is £7.50 per person, to include coffee. Please call Janice on 880668 at least 48 hours beforehand to book your place or to arrange transport.
