

DOCTOR'S ORDERS

Plans for a 41 home development in the village, to include provision for a new doctors' surgery, has passed the first hurdle. Outline plans for the development on land to the east of Welford Road, presented by home builders, Davidsons Homes and property developer, Keir Group, were approved by Harborough Planning Committee at their meeting on July 7th.

Highways Authority objections to the creation of a second access to the site have meant that the previously advertised plans, presented at a public meeting in August 2014, have had to be modified. The new proposal is to create a common access point at the site of the existing field gateway within the 30 mph limit.

Being outside the current village boundary and building line such a development wouldn't normally be considered under current planning rules. However, the proposal to provide a new surgery complex within the project was considered a contribution of sufficient beneficial interest to the community that this element effectively over-ruled the normal objections. The developers have consulted freely with parish councillors and representatives of Husbands Bosworth Surgery from an early stage in the planning process. The Parish Council, taking into account the positive benefits to the local community, has supported the proposals that have been tabled.

Currently the Section 106 community infrastructure contribution details, between the developers and the local authority, are being thrashed out. More detailed plans on the layout of the site are expected to be submitted by the proposers in the near future.

BOSWORTH FESTIVAL - ON REFLECTION...

If a picture says a thousand words then this photo sums up the story of Bosworth Festival 2015. Bright, sharp, fresh, fun, fancy, frivolous.. and above all a great Triumph! The Festival Committee was able to distribute £1,100 to the Festival's eight 'headline' charities and over £2,400 to seventeen village and local 'good causes'.

As always, many thanks to everyone who helped to make the day so successful. We would especially like to thank the local businesses who generously supported the event with sponsorship and 'facilities' ...

The event, of course, relies on the exhibitors, displays and stall-holders, many of which have faithfully supported us over the past ten years and now automatically note Bosworth Festival in their diaries. Cheers! See you again next year!

COPY DEADLINE
15th OF THE MONTH
PRECEDING PUBLICATION

A WAY WITH WORDS

Did you find out what was wrong with last month's whimsical last word conundrum? Did you finally work it out? If not, to put you out of your anguish, it was lipogrammatic! That's writing that contains not a solitary 'e'...

Think that's smart? In 1939 American author, Ernest Vincent Wright published a 50,110 word novel, Gadsby, without using the offending letter. Apparently he blanked off the 'e' on his typewriter so that no errant words would be tempted to sneak in.

Not to be outdone, however, in 2004 French author Michel Thaler published a 233 page novel 'Le Train de Nulle Part' ('The Nowhere Train'), which has no verbs.

Editor's Note: By way of experiment we will attempt to compose this issue of the Bugle without any mistakes...

POSTBAG

Ralph & Jo Horton, Highcroft

We have long thought how lucky we are to live in such a welcoming and amiable village. It is difficult to walk down the road without encountering a friendly greeting and having a nice little chat about nothing in particular. This was never more evident than at the village festival where it was most heartening to see everyone mixing so well and obviously enjoying the day. The organisers should be applauded for all their efforts and we hope that the festival will continue for many years to come.

From Suzie Dhillon, Bell Lane

On behalf of "Leaves of Hope" and the Belarusian orphans who they help support, I would like to thank everyone who contributed to our plant, bric-a-brac and toy stall at Bosworth Festival and to those who bought items, making this a very successful venture. All of the proceeds will go towards our mission to Zhodino in October, which aims to brighten the lives of these severely deprived children. On my return I hope to be able to show you what your assistance means to them. Thank you again.

From Lorrie Forman, Treasurer All Saints Church

On behalf of All Saints Church I would like to thank everyone who came along and supported our church stall at the Bosworth Festival. A total of £131 was raised towards the Roof Fund.

COURIER SCAMS

The old courier fraudsters are active again locally. They sound plausible and introduce themselves as working for the New Scotland Yard Fraud Department. They suggest that there has been fraudulent activity on your card and request your bank/card details and may try to arrange for a courier to collect your cards. The Metropolitan Police advise that they do not pursue their cases or such incidents over the phone.

Some things to protect your cards and PIN numbers from fraud

- Your bank and the police will never collect your bank card
- Your bank and the police will never ask for your PIN
- If you receive one of these calls end it immediately

Victim Advice

- If you have given any details to a fraudster, call your bank and cancel your cards immediately
- Call from another phone in case your connection has been compromised

You can report any suspected fraudulent activity online at:

BOSWORTH IN FOCUS

A ROUND-UP OF LOCAL NEWS

HORTICULTURAL SHOW-TIME

With this copy of your Bugle you will find the Schedule for our village Horticultural and Craft Show, to be held on Sunday, August 30th. Over the past few years we have seen the show grow, especially the childrens' classes. Maybe it's the trophy and huge rosette up for grabs for best exhibit, or the small prize awarded to all! So, let's maintain this positive impetus. For all the newcomers to Bosworth, there is a class for everyone and our leaflet on "Tips on Showing" is still available by ringing Eleanor Murphy.

Of course, we make the usual plea for help with running the show, and the baking of cakes for refreshments! The involvement of some younger residents would be particularly welcome to provide the continuity we need. The Show was started about 130 years ago! Back then, it was a very serious affair, being an opportunity for all the professional gardeners of the 'big houses' in the vicinity to show off their prowess in growing chrysanthemums, carnations, lilies, fruit and of course, veggies! Then, after World War I it was taken over by Husbands Bosworth branch of the Royal British Legion. In the 1930s it was held in a marquee in the grounds of Bosworth Hall alongside the Sheepdog Trials and became one of the major events of the summer.

Now it is a village show with all the profits being ploughed back to village organisations and one of the few village horticultural shows left in the county. Please let us keep this old tradition alive by exhibiting or just come and be amazed how many talented folks live in Husbands Bosworth. You can also enjoy homemade cakes and play tombola! Any queries please ring Eleanor on 880476.

NOTICE: Would last year's trophy winners ensure they return them to Eleanor before the Show?

WILD ABOUT BOSWORTH

A Herb by Any Other Name

Herb Robert - Geranium Robertianum

In the undergrowth, in the gaps in the canopy of cow parsley, you'll often find a little pink flower known as Herb Robert. However, it has many names - more aliases than a master criminal...

Stinky Bob refers to its smell, which is so bad it is said the juice of the plant repels mosquitoes.

Numerous names refer to its red colour: Red Robin, Bloodwort, Dragon's Blood, Red Bird's Eye. As the plant ages, its stems and leaves turn crimson. This colour change also occurs in sunny locations where the sunlight stimulates production of anthocyanin, a red coloured compound, which absorbs ultra-violet light and protects the plant from damage. In other words, the plant manufactures its own sun block!

The flowers develop into seed pods, which resemble a beak. Geraniums with this characteristic are called Cranesbills. When the pods ripen, the 'beak' segments spring violently apart and cast seeds away from the parent plant.

The remains of the pods resemble five outstretched claws, hence the plant's epithets, Crow's Feet or Dove's Feet.

Finally, here are some of the herb's more arcane names: Knife and Fork, Little Bachelor's Buttons, Granny Thread the Needle, Hop O'My Thumb, Squinter-Pip and the morbid, Death Comes Quick. Not forgetting my favourite, Kiss Me Quick...

BYGONE BOSWORTH

Images from the Historical Society's Archive Collection

For this month's picture I am indebted to former villager, Michael Salter who has reminded me of Dick Protheroe and Bosworth's connection with the high-powered world of motor-sport.

Dick was a renowned entrepreneur and racing car enthusiast, who drove alongside the 'greats' of the sport, Stirling Moss, Mike Hawthorn and Phil Hill in the 1950s and 1960s. Our picture shows Dick on the forecourt of his car showroom in Bosworth, where Cheney Court stands today, with the Post Office in the background.

Born Elmer Richard Protheroe in 1922, Dick flew Wellingtons and Lancasters with Bomber Command during the war, rising to the rank of Flight Lieutenant and gaining a DFC for his endeavours. He returned to the RAF after the war, flying and instructing on the jet Valiants and Victors. Part of his time was spent as a test pilot, which presumably spawned his later desire to push boundaries in a racing career.

Returning from service in Egypt in 1952, he came to live at Highfield House with his second wife Rosemary (néé Massey, of the Massey tractor family) and set up workshops, garage facilities and an Austin dealership in the village. He quickly gained a reputation for his engine tuning skills and started to enter competitions himself, successfully campaigning a string of specially light-bodied Jaguars that he race-prepared himself. As his successes mounted he transferred his allegiance to Ferrari and raced the 330P shown in our picture: Graham Hill's Ferrari works car. Formula racing was beckoning and it is likely that Dick would have followed Moss, Hill et al into works machines. However Dick's career was cut short when he was tragically killed while practising for the 1966 season at Oulton Park, Cheshire.

Editor's Note: The Protheroe garage business continues, of course, today in Market Harborough. There is a memorial plaque to Dick inside the parish church, on the wall above the font.

PARISH COUNCIL NEWS

The Parish Council recently hosted the unveiling of the village's defibrillator at an official ceremony.

The unveiling was attended by a host of local dignitaries and school children from the village primary school, who had raised a significant proportion of the cost of the device.

The defibrillator is housed centrally in the village, in the former telephone box on The Green and is accessible at all times.

Chairman of the Parish Council, Bill Fletcher, thanked everyone who had helped to raise the funds to purchase the device. The school's brass band played a selection of suitably stirring musical pieces for the occasion and Ben Taylor, a pupil at the school, cut the ribbon to officially open the facility. A presentation evening given by the suppliers, Community Heartbeat, has been held recently to demonstrate the device and give villagers confidence in its use.

The next meeting of Husbands Bosworth Parish Council will be on Tuesday, August 4th at 7.45pm in the Committee Room of the Village Hall

Parish Council meetings are open to all. If you have a matter of parish interest that you would like to bring before the meeting please contact the Parish Clerk, Jackie Fletcher on 880910. Visitors are normally invited to address the meeting before the formal business of the meeting is conducted.

GO SLOW BROADBAND

A recent communication by Leicestershire County Council indicated that the timing for Husbands Bosworth to be fully 'wired' for high-speed Broadband had been put back to the end of the year. However, Parish Councillor, Patricia Hobson, who is championing the Broadband cause on behalf of the parish council, has been assured that, although the roll-out schedule has slipped, BT are still optimistic that the local scheme will be live by the end of September.

STOP PRESS As we go to press we note some fluorescent jackets working and a new cabinet on The Green.... progress?

CHURCH NEWS

All Saints Parish Church, Methodist Chapel & St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church

From the Rectory

Having an attitude of gratitude I recently attended the farewell service for The Right Reverend Tim Stevens, Bishop of Leicester at St Martin's Cathedral. It was billed as a service of thanksgiving for his ministry and thanks was the main theme for the service, as you might expect. Thanks were offered from a variety of people - the Bishop himself, and representatives of lay people and clergy from the diocese, from those who could speak for what he has achieved nationally and locally within community and members of the faith communities in Leicester. There were also messages from link diocese abroad, from Tanzania, Wyoming and Trichy-Tanjore, in Southern India. It brought into focus the local, national and international role of a bishop and was a good example of having an attitude of gratitude. We wish Bishop Tim and his wife Wendi a long, healthy and happy retirement and add our thanks to those offered at the service.

Here at All Saints, we also wish to model an attitude of gratitude, to the many people who have helped and supported us through the last 10 months since the lead was stolen from the church roof. The lead has now been replaced by stainless steel and in recent heavy rains proved to be water-tight. We are truly grateful to all who have helped during this time and, to formally say thanks to all of you, and to God, we invite you to join us for a 'Songs of Praise' service on Sunday August 23rd at 5.00pm at All Saints Church - with refreshments afterwards. All are welcome.

Thank you for supporting your parish church in so many ways, your watchfulness, practical support and your generosity. May God bless you as you have blessed the church. Yours, with a thankful heart - Liz
