

LAST POST

Sadly, Husbands Bosworth & Theddingworth Branch of the Royal British Legion have recently announced that the branch is to close after 100 years of dedicated service to armed forces personnel and veterans.

In our picture [right] we see Standard Bearer, John Clarke, who took over the honour from his father, Aubrey, passing the Standard to his grandson, Reuben Clarke at the British Legion parade on Remembrance Sunday 2023.

Sadly, this was the last time that the Branch Standard is likely to be paraded, as on the closure of the branch, the Standard must be laid up. Meanwhile, arrangements have been made for the Standard to be finally furled and laid up in All Saints Church.

The village will continue to honour those who have given their lives in service to the country by carrying on the tradition of parading with the Scouts and Brownies to the War Memorial on Remembrance Sunday and supporting the Poppy Day Appeal.

CANAL CLOSURE

The Canal and River Trust, which administers the Grand Union Canal through Husbands Bosworth, have given notice that they intend to close Husbands Bosworth canal tunnel to navigation on Saturday, April 27th, from 10.30am to 1.30pm. Between these times boaters will not be able to navigate through the tunnel. The closure is necessary to enable the Trust to carry out staff safety, rescue and recovery training on site.

The public is assured that, whilst full towpath access and passage will be maintained at all times, visitors will need to take extra care, as there is likely to be more activity in the area during the operation.

STAMP RISE

Postage rates go up again from April 2nd, when the fourth increase in two years will take the price of a first-class stamp up to £1.35 and the cost of the second-class service to 85p. Back in March 2022, first-class stamps cost 85p and second-class stamps were 66p, but there has since been a run of increases, most recently last October.

Royal Mail said the new price of first- and second-class stamps remained below the average prices in Europe of £1.66 and £1.26 respectively.

It said the number of letters sent had fallen from 20bn in 2004-05 to 7bn in 2022-23, while the number of addresses had risen by 4m.

Under the terms of the Universal Service Obligation (USO) Royal Mail is legally bound to offer a six days a week and a single price point delivery service of all addressed mail to the UK's 32m addresses.

Editor's note: Royal Mail is currently trying to renegotiate the terms of the USO to reduce the number of delivery days per week.

BUGLE POSTBAG

From James Bolter, Husbands Bosworth & Theddingworth Branch Royal British Legion
It is with a heavy heart that the membership of the local branch of the Royal British Legion announce the formal winding up of the branch.

Our branch was founded in 1924 to support veterans of the Great War and it then went into a brief period of suspended animation from 1940 to 1945 until the next generation of veterans from World War II returned from the battlefields.

Members will continue to support the Poppy Appeal every year but our Branch Standard will be laid up at Husbands Bosworth Parish Church in the coming months.

SECRET POLICE

On Thursday May 2nd the electorate gets the chance to change the country's administrative landscape when we go to the polls... Unfortunately this is not our opportunity to vote on the state of the nation - this time we will be voting for who we would like to be our Police Commissioner...

I know... at Bugle HQ we are also beside ourselves with excitement at the prospect. Just in case you are wondering exactly what the Police Commissioner does, here is a run-down of his (or her?) duties.

- set local policing priorities in response to community concerns and crime trends
- set the portion of our Council Tax that is allocated to local policing
- liaise with individuals and communities, and host Police and Crime Panel
- provide grants for road safety and crime awareness issues
- ensure an effective link to the national Criminal Justice and judicial system
- consult, listen to and involve the public with regard to local concerns
- set out a five year Police and Crime Plan, set an annual budget
- ensure local policing gives value for money
- hold the Chief Constable to account
- appoint, and if necessary dismiss, the Chief Constable...

The office of Police and Crime Commissioner has no control over the operational duties of the police - the chief constable retains direction and control of officers and staff. So there you have it...

BOSWORTH IN FOCUS

WILD ABOUT BOSWORTH

Crab apple - Malus sylvestris

This time of the year crab apple trees provide a stunning splash of colour at the western end of millennium wood. Its scientific name means 'forest apple'. Previously, crab apples were thought to be the progenitor of modern cultivated apples, but DNA analysis has shown that honour goes to malus sieversii, a wild apple from southern Kazakhstan. Apple tree genes are so hybridized nowadays though that species can only be positively identified by DNA testing.

Typically, crab apples can be found growing in hedges and woodland margins. They don't grow well in densely wooded areas as they are poor at competing for sunlight. In spring its sweetly scented pink-white blossom is a welcome pollen source for bees and other insects. When the leaves appear, they're a food resource for caterpillars, including those of the magnificent eyed hawkmoth. Due to their long flowering period, crab apples are often planted in commercial orchards as pollinating partners for cultivated trees. As a result, trees that grow from discarded apple cores frequently exhibit crab apple characteristics.

In late summer the fruit ripens into small, green apples. You can usually find a carpet of them on the towpath next to the Board Lane canal bridge. Naturally, this bounty doesn't go to waste and it's an important autumnal resource for local wildlife, including badgers, blackbirds, thrushes, mice and voles. Of course, they are harvested by foragers with a taste for crab apple jelly and crab apple wine. Mythologically, crab apples symbolise fertility and are associated with love and marriage. It is also said you can test if the love of your life is true by throwing their pips into a fire - provided they explode all is well...

Regarding last month's article on violets, though I cannot be 100% certain, the lack of stolons and scent leads me to believe they are dog violets.

SCOUTING FOR BOSWORTH

I would like to start with a huge thank you to all who supported our recent book sale. It was a successful fund-raiser and we really enjoyed meeting lots of you, who had either been leaders in days gone by or were involved in the construction of the Scout Hut. It was heartwarming to hear your memories and words of encouragement. We will be planning some more events throughout the year in the hope of engaging with the community more. Watch this space!

All our sections have been working hard on badges, including, Astronomy, Experiment, Safety and Faith. Cubs are excited and are looking forward to be stretching their legs and hiking to a secret location for their Easter sleep-over. There have been some interesting guesses from the young people as to where they will end up, but they won't find out until they arrive at their destination! We have let them down gently by telling them already that it is not a follow on from the Astronomy badge and they will be remaining firmly on planet Earth! All will be revealed next month!

There are lots of upcoming District and County events to keep the young people (and their taxi driver parents) active. We are entering teams into the Rambling Fox incident hike and celebrating St. George's Day at Ullesthorpe Camp Site.

After the Easter break there will be a couple of spaces available in Beavers for anyone aged 6/7. If you have eligible children, please email kilworthbeavers@gmail.com for more information.

SCHOOL REPORT

HUSBANDS BOSWORTH C. of E. PRIMARY SCHOOL Head Teacher Alan Eathorne

Husbands Bosworth Primary School - Farm School update

Class 4 were lucky enough to spend the morning with Leicestershire & Rutland Young Farmers Club last month, to discover all about Young Farmers Clubs and careers in agriculture. Thank you to County Chairman, Matt Kirk and County Organiser, Emma Lovegrove for visiting as part of our Farm School initiative. The children had a great time discovering all the job roles that go into producing a supermarket sandwich - helping them to realise how interesting, diverse and exciting the agricultural industry is. Everyone (including the staff) learnt loads and the children did the school proud with their farming knowledge and quiz scores.

Thank you to Leicestershire Young Farmers for all their support and we hope to see them back again soon - especially as we've got a few new farming recruits ready to start work ASAP!

BYGONE BOSWORTH

Images from the Historical Society's Archive Collection

Villager, Mike Chanter recently came across mobile farrier, Phil Duffin expertly shoeing Milly at Highcroft Farm.

In the wild, feral horses travel up to fifty miles a day in search of food, slowly abrading their hooves and keeping them healthy. The pampered life of domesticated horses, living in stables and paddocks, causes their hooves to soften and suffer from splitting. An early solution to the problem was shoes made from woven material or hide. It is unknown when iron horseshoes were introduced, but there are records of them being used in England in 900AD. Shoeing, when performed correctly, causes no pain to the animal - a bit like a mani-pedi...

The superstition regarding the luck of horseshoes derives from the legend that when Saint Dunstan, was working as a farrier the Devil asked him to shoe his horse. Dunstan accepted the commission but craftily nailed the shoe to the Devil's foot! Amid cries of pain, the Devil pleaded to have the shoe removed. Dunstan agreed, only on condition he swore never to enter a household with a horseshoe nailed above the door.

This image from our Archive shows the organised chaos in the High Street workshop of the last practising village blacksmiths, John Turner and Bill French. At this time the local blacksmith had to be a jack-of-all-trades, not only shoeing horses but also repairing machinery and making hand tools, servicing the needs of local farmers and hunting stables.

CHURCH NEWS

All Saints Parish Church & St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church

ALL SAINTS CHURCH NEWS

John 19.26-27

When Jesus saw his mother and the disciple, whom he loved, standing beside her, he said to his mother, 'Woman, here is your son'. Then he said to the disciple, 'Here is your mother.' And from that hour the disciple took her into his own home.

It is difficult to even imagine Mary's pain, as she stands at the foot of the cross watching her son die in agony. She stands there in unimaginable torment of soul, watching all her dreams and hopes shatter before her eyes.

All those angelic visitations, all those divine promises, all those wonderful words about all generations calling her blessed, all the successful ministry and the miracles - all fallen to dust and ashes.

Where is God now? Where are all those wonderful promises and prophecies now? How do you find the courage to make it through such horror? Well, Mary is supported by others, present with her, sharing her pain - Mary's sister, Mary the wife of Clopas, and Mary Magdalene, plus the Beloved disciple John. Jesus also helps Mary, by giving her a new role. She is losing her son, but she can be a mother to his closest friend, John.

Catholic theologians see this event as deeply meaningful, and understand this passage telling us that Mary is being designated as the mother of all Christians. The beloved disciple, John, represents all believers. So, Jesus is saying that Mary is now the mother of all the faithful.

The moment is highly significant. It is the culmination of Jesus' life and mission. Who are there - his mother, and his closest disciple. Mary, who was the first to believe, and John who was the best believer. Two people who have stayed with Jesus right to the end. One is his blood-mother, the other is in a chosen relationship of devoted discipleship. The two people who believe in Jesus the most, are brought together at the foot of the cross, and a new family is created. We often think of Pentecost as the birth of the Church, but perhaps it is right here in this moment. Two people, both devoted to Christ, are brought into a new familial relationship - the Church, the family of Christ. As Christ's blood is shed on the cross, he makes Mary and John, blood-relations. As Christians we are also blood-relatives, united by the blood of Jesus.

Do you see the wonder of this!?! Jesus, at the very moment of greatest weakness, at the very point of death, achieves His greatest success. He creates the Church.

Easter is complicated to celebrate. The horror of Good Friday, with its betrayal, denial, abandonment, torture, false accusation and agonising death, all of which should be acknowledged. But then the joy of Easter Sunday, Christ's victory, the great reversal.

As you celebrate Easter, you might think of the role mothers play in all that, and give thanks for those that have mothered you, whether birth mothers or otherwise.

Easter Blessings.
